

COLLEEN

LENT is slowly drawing to a close. As her drab mantle grows older and rustier, the prospect of Easter with its feasts and fetes and bursts of new plumage grows brighter and brighter. In the dull interim, many of Honolulu's society folk have taken advantage of the Punahou vacation this week, and the public schools' vacation next week to slip out into the country with their families. The homes at Kahala, Kalahele, Kaneohe, ahala, and even as far away as Kahuku, are being opened up and fairly exude the appearance of occupancy. As a result of this exodus, Dame Society is yawning behind her fan. Too often she has been forced to take her luncheon and her afternoon tea alone, and still oftener her dinner has been solitary, while her dancing has been almost neglected. However, she is graciously grateful for the attention she has received and is living in eager anticipation of Easter with all its subsequent festivities and gaieties.

Miss Gamble's Bride.

A very enjoyable bridge party was given on Tuesday evening by Miss Barrie Gamble at her home on Wilder avenue. After the last "rubber," refreshments were served and the prizes awarded. The latter proved to be handsome Canton vases and the fortunate ladies were Mrs. Ralph Lister, Mrs. V. D. Dixon, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Mrs. A. L. Bump and Mrs. John Johnston. Those invited were Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Mrs. Ralph Lister, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Miss Lila McDonald, Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mrs. V. D. Dixon, Mrs. L. B. McAfee, Mrs. G. D. Freeman, Mrs. M. T. Clegg, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. W. R. Gibson, Mrs. Sarah Newcombe, Mrs. Benjamin Watkins, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Miss Hadley, Mrs. John S. Johnston, Mrs. S. D. Barnes, Mrs. Arthur L. Bump, Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, Mrs. D. M. Appel, Mrs. Chas. Clark, Mrs. Joy G. Whitham, Mrs. B. Frank Cheatham, Mrs. Denham, Mrs. F. H. French, Mrs. R. M. Cutts, Mrs. Birch, O. Mahaffey, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. Conklin, Mrs. M. R. Jamieson, Mrs. Tower, Mr. E. Hugh Cook, Mrs. Archibald Campbell, Mrs. Gane and Mrs. Gamble.

Capt. and Mrs. Clark's Dinner.

In spite of the near approach of holy week, there seems to be no cessation of the affairs in honor of Col. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis. These two popular people were the motifs for an informal but delightful dinner on Wednesday at which Capt. and Mrs. C. A. Clark were hosts. Covers were laid for Col. and Mrs. Ellis, Dr. M. A. Delaney, Capt. and Mrs. Norris Stayton, Lieut. R. E. Guthrie and the host and hostess.

Miss Stephanie Wichman's Supper.

A very pretty little affair of the week was the supper dance which Miss Stephanie Wichman gave on Thursday evening in honor of the little Misses Edith and Juliette Rice. A profusion of trailing vines and feathery ferns converted the rooms into veritable green bowers. After a delightful supper, the young people spent the remainder of the evening in dancing. Those invited to greet Edith and Juliette Rice were the Misses Lydia Borden, Marjorie Guild, Hilda Church, Elizabeth Wall, Louise Watkins, Virginia Frear, Catherine von Holt, Masters Jas. Borden, Alan Wilder, Cecil Halstead, Murray Johnston, Dick Gartley, Tom Singlehurst, Bryant Cooper, Dickson Hitchcock, Leighton Byer and Ruben Campbell.

Miss Wilson's Engagement.

One of the most interesting items of news for the week was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the youngest daughter of the president, to William Gibbs McAduf, secretary of the treasury. While this announcement came as a surprise to the general public, those in close touch with Miss Wilson declare that it had already been anticipated. Mr. McAduf has frequently been seen slipping through the iron gates in the east entrance of the White House when his business was known not to be official, as the president himself was not at home. The two have also been observed to dance a great deal together at all the large affairs where both were present; and even as long ago as last summer, it was rumored that he was a frequent visitor at the president's summer cottage in New Hampshire. Miss Wilson is a wholesome, attractive, out-of-door girl as all the Wilson girls are, with a mind of her own and independence enough to consult it. She is a daring horsewoman and excels at tennis. She also devotes a great deal of time and energy to charitable and social center work.

Hawley-Seaver Wedding.

A very quiet wedding was celebrated last Saturday at the home of the Rev. Amos A. Ebersole, when Miss Almi Florence Seaver became the wife of Mr. Marion Alexander Hawley. Indeed, the prospective marriage was kept so quiet by both of the parties concerned, that when Miss Seaver slipped out of the "homestead" on Saturday evening, not one of the girls residing there knew her intention. It is very probable too that they would have been kept guessing somewhat longer as to the whereabouts of the runaway pair if it had not been for the tell-tale suitcase which fell unnoticed from the rear of their machine en route to Mr. Ebersole's home, and was later returned to the "homestead." The claiming of this errand piece of baggage naturally called forth explanations. Mrs. Hawley has been in Honolulu a year and three months, her former home being in Massachusetts. Up to the first of the year she taught the eighth grade at the Normal School, but resigned at that time to start upon a trip around the world. After spending six weeks in Japan during a very rainy season there, she decided that—well, the obvious thing, that she would come back to Honolulu, arriving here on the 13th of March. Mrs. Hawley was also president of the Kuna Rowing Club up to the time of her departure for Japan, which office she filled very efficiently, her resignation being greeted with considerable regret by the girls of the club. Mr. Hawley came to Honolulu from Michigan about four years ago. He has filled the position until recently of sergeant in the 159th company, Coast Artillery, acting in the capacity of platoon leader. He is also 1st Lieutenant in the national guard of Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley are at present spending a couple of weeks at the Peninsula after which they will return to town.

Farewell Reception.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Stump to the number of about 50 tendered them a farewell reception at their home on Quarantine Island Thursday evening. A bounteous repast was spread for the guests; farewell speeches were made, parting songs sung and Mrs. Stump was presented with a lot of steamer letters. Mrs. Stump will leave for the mainland on the Matsonia Wednesday en route to her former home in Philadelphia. She will be followed by her husband as soon as he is relieved from his present duties. Dr. and Mrs. Stump plan to reside permanently on the mainland.

Mrs. Gaynor's Bridge.

A very enjoyable bridge party of the early week was that given by Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Gaynor on Monday evening. At the end of the playing light refreshments were served and the prizes awarded to Dr. A. L. Andrews and Mr. C. F. Schmutzler, who made the highest scores. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schmutzler, Dr. Bach, Miss Bess Kentner and Mr. and Mrs. Gaynor.

Mr. Thiele's Luncheon.

A very pretty luncheon was given at the Mauna Hotel on Tuesday by Mr. T. B. Thiele. The table was beautifully decorated with pink bergamots and the ladies' favors were corsage bouquets of violets and roses. Covers were laid for Mrs. Edwin O. Child, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blum of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Stokes of New York; Dr. P. J. Jass, Mr. Harold Janss, Dr. Shouty of the Mauna, and Mr. Thiele.

Capt. and Mrs. Hopkins' Dinner.

by Major and Mrs. D. R. Case. The table was attractively decorated with large yellow chrysanthemums and fluffy maidenhair ferns. Covers were laid for General and Mrs. William Carter, General Clarence Edwards, Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Colonel and Mrs. D. G. Appel, Colonel and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Miss Lila McDonald, Major Julius A. Dean, Lieutenant and Mrs. Jerome G. Pillow, Lieutenant and Mrs. John D. Reardon, and the host and hostess.

Service Engagement.

The engagement was announced last week in San Francisco of Mrs. Mabel Thompson and Lieut. William P. White of the 16th Infantry now stationed at the Presidio. The wedding will take place on April 5, and that week the young couple will sail for the Philippines, to which place Lieut. White has been assigned for service.

Mrs. Thompson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wheeler of Berkeley.

Engagement Announced.

per dance given by Capt. and Mrs. Constance, to Mr. Alfred J. Cottrell, Frank Hopkins of Schofield Barracks in honor of their daughter, Miss George Hopkins. The decorations consisted principally of red asters, which were scattered profusely about the room. A delightful supper was served, buffet style. About 50 guests were entertained by Capt. and Mrs. Hopkins, a large number attending from town.

Miss MacDougal's Recital.

An event which is attracting a good deal of interest is Miss E. L. MacDougal's recital which will take place at the Hawaiian Opera House, next Thursday, Good Friday eve. On the occasion, Miss MacDougal will read an English translation of Wagner's recited opera, "Parsifal." The story of the Holy Grail is told by Sir Thomas Malory in his "Chronicles," but Wagner adorned to the old German legend and it is this version that Miss MacDougal will give us. She has put much time on the work during the past year, and devoting to her little cottage on Tantalus, where she has been able to combine the pleasures of this wonderful poem. She is a woman of strong imagination, deeply religious, and possesses the rare quality of carrying her emotions to

Major and Mrs. Case's Dinner.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the dinner given on Wednesday evening at the Pleasanton her audience. She has conceived of the piece as a sort of Easter offering, and in her anxiety to have it perfect in every respect, she has been attentive to every detail. Her costume is to be a cream robe with a girdle so conceived as to suggest the form of a cross, the whole in keeping with the medieval tone of the play. The piece is divided into three acts; the first is rather long and explanatory, the second shows the scene of enchantment and is very dramatic, while the third tells of the restoration of the king's health. Between the acts, Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard will give interpretations on the piano of the different themes and motifs embodied in the play with the feeling and technique of which this wonderful musician is master. That this sacred work is appealing to the community at large is strikingly demonstrated by the fact that among Miss MacDougal's endorsers are His Excellency Governor Pinkham, Judge Sanford B. Dole, Dr. Doremus Scudder and others of the clergy, Mrs. W. F. Frear, Mrs. Doremus Scudder, Mrs. Isaac Cox, Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett and Mrs. Catherine Yates. A complete list of the patrons and patronesses will appear in the Wednesday columns.

Miss Kennedy's Luncheon.

A very charming affair was the luncheon given yesterday by Miss Jessie Kennedy in honor of Miss Mary O'Brien, who departed on the Mauna. Occupying the center of the table was a French basket filled with a wealth of pink roses, violets, pansies and sweet peas, all softly enveloped in a mist of yellow tulle. The place-cards were hand-painted flower-holders filled with violets, sweet peas and pansies. Covers were laid for the Misses Mary O'Brien, Anna Bottomley, Susanne Bottomley, Harriet Lucas, Mary Lucas, Dorothy Allen, Nora Sturgeon, Emily Farley, May Marshall, Mrs. Walter Kendall, Miss Smith and Miss Kennedy.

Mrs. Rietow's Bridge.

Mrs. Ray Rietow of Kaimuki was hostess on Tuesday at a very enjoyable bridge party. Mrs. L. E. Thayer captured the first prize, which was a handsome picture, while Miss Mabel Hair took the second, a cut-glass salve jar. Those present were: Mrs. Lewis Underwood, Mrs. James Guild, Mrs. L. E. Thayer, Miss Mabel Hair, Mrs. C. J. Flebig, Mrs. Frank Apple, Mrs. Giegke, Mrs. Gus Prescott, Mrs. Sallie Crane, Miss Lucy Lyman, Mrs. Emil Burke and the hostess.

Mrs. Ingalls' Recital.

The keenest interest is being shown in the recital of Mrs. Arthur Burdette Ingalls which takes place on Tuesday evening, April 14th, at 8:15 in the Royal Hawaiian Opera House. The recital is being given as a benefit for the King's Daughters' Home. Those who have heard Mrs. Ingalls' playing know what a wonderful musician she is, and all are seizing this opportunity to enjoy her. She is being most ably assisted by Mr. D. P. R. Isenberg, the Ladies' String Quartet, and Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard, accompanist. The patronesses of Mrs. Ingalls' recital are: Mrs. W. F. Frear, Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. Jeff McCann, Mrs. C. B. Moore, Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. F. D. French, Mrs. Sarah Newcomb, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. James Widger, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. H. Von Holt, Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Mrs. John Waterhouse, Mrs. I. A. McCandless, Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Mrs. W. A. Wall, Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Mrs. W. R. Castle, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Mrs. E. W. Peterson, Mrs. Richard Ivers, and Mrs. Edward Carpenter.

Mrs. Beckv Abbott Howland.

Of considerable interest to society, especially to the musical circles, is the fact that Mrs. Beckv Abbott Howland—better known as Beckv Abbott—the grand opera prima donna, is here in Honolulu on a visit and also on a mission. She arrived about three or four weeks ago and is visiting her aunt, Mrs. E. B. Derby of Manoa valley. To date, this popular young artist has been entertained and has been able to get down to work—yes work, for she is here with the avowed purpose of doing no less a thing than writing part of an opera. The piece is to be on the order of the "Bohemian Girl," and is to be divided into four parts, Hawaiian-American, English, Japanese and Spanish-American. Mrs. Howland is handling the Hawaiian-American and the English sections. It is her wish to embody as much of the theme of Hawaiian music as is possible in her work, so that it may express the character and feelings of the people themselves. She expects to begin seriously now the business of collecting material, which will probably take about a month. At the end of that time, she will return to the states where she will work over her material and put on the finishing touches. Mrs. Howland's home is in Los Angeles but it is comparatively little time she is able to spend there as her work usually demands her presence in New York, Paris, or some other of the great musical centers.

Admiral and Mrs. Moore's Dinner.

A lovely affair of the week was the dinner given by Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore on Thursday evening at their home in Manoa valley. The table decorations were very effective, a large graceful fern occupying the center, while the pink candle shades added a very pleasing touch. The remainder of the house was artistically decorated with yellow coreopsis. Covers were laid for General and Mrs. William Carter, Colonel and Mrs. W. E. Ellis, Major and Mrs. John T. Myers, Lieutenant Frurer, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Captain and Mrs. G. H. Jamieson, and Admiral and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Lymer's Dinner.

Lieutenant and Mrs. G. F. Humbert were the motifs for a most delightful dinner on Thursday at which Mrs. William Lymer was hostess. The decorations were most exquisite. In the center of the table was a large basket heaped with yellow roses and softly draped in tulle. The placecards were hand-painted in dainty fly designs. Covers were laid for Lieutenant and Mrs. G. F. Humbert, Mr. and Mrs. William Williamson, Mr. Clarence H. Olson, and Mr. and Mrs. Lymer.

Progressive Luncheon.

A most interesting event of the week was the progressive luncheon which occurred yesterday. The affair began at the home of Mrs. A. Hodgins, who served the cocktail. From here the guests progressed to Mrs. M. M. Graham's home where grapefruit punch was enjoyed. Mrs. W. B. Barnes of Manoa valley served the third course, corn soup, after which the guests were rushed to Miss Barrie Gamble's home on Wilder avenue where they partook of a fish entree and rolls. Mrs. Edgar Robinson served the next course of turkey, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce, chutney and rolls. Mrs. A. Perry prepared the salad course, after which Mrs. Edward Dekum served strawberry ice cream and cake.

The tables were all very attractively decorated, the color scheme for Mrs. Hodgins' and Mrs. Perry's being yellow, Mrs. Graham's and Miss Gamble's lavender, Mrs. Barnes' white, and Miss Dekum's pink. Immediately after Mrs. Dekum's course, the party gathered at the Country Club where they enjoyed coffee and crackers and cheese. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing bridge. Those present were: Mrs. A. Hodgins, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. A. Perry, Mrs. Edgar Robinson, Mrs. M. M. Graham, and Miss Barrie Gamble.

Mrs. French's Dance.

A very jolly Viennese dance was enjoyed at the home of Lieutenant and Mrs. S. W. French last evening. The lani was made very attractive by means of ferns and palms, while the spacious rooms adjoining were thrown open to the guests for dancing. Among those invited were: General Clarence Edwards, Captain and Mrs. Schlauser, Doctor and Mrs. J. D. Whitham, Lieutenant and Mrs. Douglass T. Greene, Miss Greene, Dr. J. R. Barber, Captain Benner, Lieutenant and Mrs. John D. Reardon, Dr. Hooper, Mr. Daniels, Mr. Derby, Doctor and Mrs. H. P. Carter, Mr. Burling, Miss Chapin, Dr. and Mrs. Arnett P. Matthews, Miss Petty Case, Captain and Mrs. Leartus J. Owen, and Captain and Mrs. James R. Mount.

Captain and Mrs. Johnston's Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. John Johnston were hosts at a very pretty dinner last evening in honor of Colonel and Mrs. W. E. Ellis. The table was very attractively decorated with large pink asters, while the place cards were of a pretty Japanese design to match. Covers were laid for Colonel and Mrs. Ellis, Captain and Mrs. John E. Stebbins, Captain and Mrs. Carr W. Waller and Captain and Mrs. Johnston.

Rehearsals of the College of Hawaii play which the girls of that institution expect to give, have been going forward with a rush. They are being carried on both at the college and at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews, who are coaching the piece. The name of the play or the authors have not as yet been given out, but the dates of the performances have been decided upon as the 17th and 18th of April. It was necessary to plan to give the play two nights as the rooms in which it will be given were not large enough to accommodate a very large audience. It is hoped that the students will be able to overcome this difficulty by giving the two performances.

BAD OPERATION AVOIDED

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Sowers' Own Statement.

Hodgdon, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
